my boss!

Feeling a little overwhelmed?

Simplify everyday tasks using tools you already have.

A New Perspective on Email

No force in the modern workplace is more daunting than email. This seminar provides a comprehensive plan to help you regain control —not through a handful of tricks, but by adopting a new perspective.

Improving Meetings

The conference room should produce results, not boredom. Request this seminar to learn ways to improve how you spend time face-to-face.

Making Communication Productive

We speak and write at work to transmit ideas and get things done. This Short Talk offers practical advice for transforming the way you speak, write, read and listen.

Business Process Modeling

Job descriptions and operations manuals are fading fast. Move beyond written documentation and learn to build agile, flexible schematics.

Networking Efficiently

Making connections and building relationships can be exhausting. Request this Short Talk to improve and accelerate your professional network.

The Power of “No”

The most loyal choice you can make is to decline work. Doing so encourages smart division of labor and maximizes the use of expertise. This Short Talk explains when, how and why to say “no.”

Productivity and Social Media

The social web can be source of progress, not a waste of time. Using Twitter, Facebook, LinkedIn or blogging to promote your business? Learn how to enhance social media productivity in this presentation.
